Buckingham.

Mr. John A. Twyman was elected by the State Board of Education to succeed himself as Division Superintendent of schools. Professor Herman Blankenship, of Campbell, was the onle man who filed an application for the position, altho, there were quite a number of others who were mentioned in connection with the appointment or selection. Mr. Scott, of Amherst, and Mr. Garbee, of Campbell, each of whom had been superintendent of his division for many years was succeeded by someone else. Mr Featherston, of Appomattox, had no opposition.

The Board of Supervisors met here on the 1st Monday to lay the levy for the coming year, but they postponed the matter and set the 4th Monday in March to take the matter up again. The citizens who are demanding better service in the schools, longer sessions & c will have to go deeper down in their geans and provide more money for the schools. At the high school here on Friday night last there was an entertainment which did credit to those who had charge in getting it up and those who took part in the play acquitted themselves in such a manner as to bring the house down in applause after applause. Mr and Mrs H C Groseclose discoursed sweet music between the acts, refreshments were sold by the girls and a neat sum was realized which will be used to equip the auditorium of the school building for future entertainments.

Mr. Editor has come out in no uncertain sound for his friend, Mr. Tucker, while I am "on the fence" at this time, as are a great many good democrats. I talked with many men from widely divergent parts of the State only to find members who have not committed themselves on the question of selecting a candidate for governor.

(Come off the fence, good writer you are, can't afford it. Lets lead the old time unterrified Democrats into that distinguished camp of Mr. Tucker —Ed.)

A tenant of mine sold a load of tobacco at Dillwyn last week for $175 and told the buyer he was satisfied with his prices. In Richmond I was told that so much tobacco was on hand that it was difficult to get it handled and that farmers would do well to hold up their shipments for a while. Farmers and others who have shoats and pigs for sale would do well to let it be known through an ad in this paper as they are in great demand. Western sides are selling at retail for 14 and 18 cents a pound best veals 15 cents. Some people who are anxious to get the milk from their cows have been shipping calves to Richmond that are too young to be used for food and they have been condemned by the inspectors.

Eggs have sold as low as 15 cents a dozen on the local market and our people have indulged their appetites by eating them a thing they have not done for some time.

Mr. James Murphey and Mr. ——Marks both died the past week and they were hard working industrious men who added materially to the commonwealth.

Seed peas are about the price they sold for last year, spring oats are selling at 75c and $1 a bushel, irish potatoes retailing at from $1.50 to $2 per bushel and good meal difficult to get at any price.

The officers of New Store Presbyterian church and the officers of Mayesville Presbyterian church met in conference here last Sunday on business matters pretaining to the two churches and they propose to meet for the same purpose several times a year.

Tobacco Growers Gain New Strength

[By S D. Frissell]

As the Tobacco Growers of Virginia carry their fight for fair markets into more counties with increasing success, new and powerful allies rally each week to aid the campaign of the Tobacco Growers' Co operative Association.

Hon. George W. Koiner, Commissioner of Agriculture, sends Tobacco Growers this message "We are glad to know we are able to aid to some extent in the organization you are endeavoring to perfect. A wave of ecoperation is sweeping the country. The time is ripe for the tobacco growers' organization. Opportunity is knocking at the door, and if the farmers of the tobacco section expect to prosper in the future they should enter into this organization in earnest".

Arthur Capper, United States Senator from Kansas asks; "What is it going to profit us to keep knocking the farmer down, and taking his property away from him? How are we going to be clothed and fed when we finally have knocked him out completely?"

Shoulder to shoulder with the farmer in his fight against ruin, bankers, merchants, school men, State and County officials are forgoing to the front.

To those who doubt this fact, these words from the letter of an ex president of the Virginia Bankers' Association, a very busy banker of State wide prominence will furnish proof

"I am doing all I can in the fight, and will keep at it. I am meeting many engagements and if you have any opportunity in the future to send me to Amelia, please let me know if I can aid you. When you can use me anywhere, I will be glad to serve you".

Mr. J. E Webb, another prominent banker, of Brooknea', Va., writes: "I have given the proposition careful thought and am convinced that it is the best, and probably only solution of the problems that now confront the tobacco growers. That the farmer has not received a fair deal is more evident today than ever before, and the time has arrived for loyal presisient effort to improve condition. The opportunity is present, but if met by indifference and lethargy, nothing will be accomplished."

From Mr. R F. Dillard, leading hardware merchant of his section, comes this pledge of help: "I beg to assure you of our deepest interest and co operation in this movement which is being made in the interest of tobacco growers. To my mind the time has come when we need action more than speech making. We must select leading business men and farmers from the different localities and visit every farmer in the county, growing tobacco. In order to accomplish this, our firm will furnish an automobile, and do just as many days of canvassing as anybody else in Nottoway If necessary, we shall be glad to subscribe very liberally to any fund which will promote the great cause, and accomplish that which we have undertaken".

Tobacco growers who cannot let go their own boot straps long enough to grasp the contract and sign their Declaration of Independence now, will fail in duty to themselves and to their grandchildren. If they fail to aid the most important enterprize of farmers that has ever reached the East, they will forfeit their right to hope for better days, through many a lean year of starvation prices.

The success of the campaign in Charlotte county, Buckingham and in Mecklenburg shows that the growers in some counties of Virginia are awake to the need of organizing the sales of their own tobacco.

With over sixty per cent of growers signed in one Virginia county, with fifty per cent of the tobacco from two more counties pledged to the co operative pool, with active drives in half a dozen more, the campaign of the Growers' Cooperative Association has made a fair start in our State.

As the campaign spreads to other counties, the future welfare of Virginia country homes throughout our whole tobacco belt, depends upon the spirit and the efforts of tobacco growers.

Other Virginians have attained success in marketing their crops together by cooperative sales. The potato growers of the Eastern Shore have well built roads, well taught schools and children whose opportunities are far beyond the average chances of Virginia country boys and girls, because they have tried cooperative marketing.

Through cooperative markets California farmers sell three hundred million dollars worth of products every year, by such a marketing agreement as the growers of Virginia are now signing.

The small grower has the same voice and vote in the management of the marketing association as the large planter and the same prices for the same grades of tobacco.

The marketing agreement is the purest and most successful form of democracy practiced in AMerica today. It has changed proverty to prosperity for thousands of California farmers, and will bring a new prosperity to the tobacco growers of our section if every grower now, will sign the contract for fair markets and future profits.

Why Mr. N. Windsor (R. I.) Put Up with Rats for Years

Mrs. Will B. Caldwell

Mrs. Will B. Caldwell, died suddenly at her home near Spout Spring, Monday night of appoplexy in the 58th year of her age. She was reared in this county at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jack Sears, and was greatly admired and highly esteemed She retired Monday night in her usual good health, but late in the night complained only of having headache and passed away before her physician could reach her. She is survived by her husband and three sons, Thomas, Jack and Lyle, of this county. The deceased was a near relative of Mesdames Thomas Hancock and Bessie Foster. The funeral services were conducted at Liberty church, where she had worshipped all her life, being conducted by Revs. East and Street. Interment was made at Liberty cemetery in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives. A quartett of Rev. L. L. Banks, John Alvis, Mesdames. J. A. Sears and L. E. Smith rendered very sweet music.

Lumber is Down

Yes, Lumber Is Down—Down to where a farmer can afford to build anything that can be made of lumber even in the face of a low market on farm products.

Lumber Was The Last Great Commodity To Go Up and the first to come down. Today lumber prices are down to where it is hard to see how they can go any lower when costs are considered.

You Farmers Have Reason To Be Disappointed In the returns from last year's crops, but with lumber selling on the present basis we don't believe you can afford not to do whatever building or repairing may be necessary before Spring work commences.

Whether It's a Barn, or a Shed, or Just Some boards for fixing up around the place, the facts about lumber will appeal to any man or woman who believes in thrift and knows values.

Let the Wild Cats Alone!

Every now and then somebody calls to ask for our opinion of some get-rich-quick scheme in which he or she has been asked to invest. For several years past the country has been flooded with bonanzas (?), and many people, to their sorrow, have put money into them.

Occasionally some good but misguided man who has already bought a "wild cat" stock, calls on us seeking information. We like always to be encouraging, but on such occasions we feel very much as we imagine the doctor does who has to tell his patient the worst.

It is for the reason that there are very bad as well as very good securities that we advise prospective investors in any issue to investigate it thoroughly.
